Eileen R. Fullerton has over 20 years of experience in general liability and insurance defense, focusing on construction accident and New York Labor Law litigation, negligent security claims, premises liability, municipal liability, and long-term care litigation. Eileen's clients include prominent property owners, contractors, subcontractors, construction managers, design professionals and private security companies. She routinely handles high-profile and significant exposure actions from pre-suit investigation through resolution/trial. She defends clients throughout New York City's five boroughs, Long Island, Westchester, Rockland, Orange, and Dutchess counties. Eileen started her career with the New York City Law Department's Bronx Tort Division. As an Assistant Corporation Counsel for the city of New York, she handled all aspects of personal injury defense, including trials in high-exposure cases involving the NYPD, in Bronx County Supreme Court. After nearly five years with Corporation Counsel, she transitioned to private insurance defense, where she has become a highly sought-after attorney in labor law and construction litigation. Eileen routinely conducts site investigations at dangerous building collapses and fire scenes and is not afraid to get her hands dirty to investigate claims and protect her clients' interests. To provide the most comprehensive service to her clients, she earned OSHA-10 certification and has lectured on the implications of OSHA training and labor laws. She also lectures attorneys, insurers, and contractors on defending labor law actions in New York. Eileen prides herself on her ability to defend her clients, pursue risk transfer opportunities, and be conscious of litigation expenses and potential exposures, thereby aggressively moving cases toward a speedy and favorable outcome. Education Elizabeth Haub School of Law at Pace University, JD Morehead State College, BBA Awards & Recognition New York Metro Super Lawyers Women to Watch, Business Insurance Admissions New York Connecticut US District Court, Southern District of New York US District Court, Northern District of New York US District Court, Eastern District of New York
